

LOGI.mobile

LOGI.mobile is an on and offline order collection tool designed for the specific needs of your sales representatives. With LOGI.mobile your sales representatives will be able to offer specific advice to prospective buyers with the help of customer service and statistics tools, as well as product recommendations which are based on the current top seller list. Orders are booked online and immediately reserved for the customer, reducing the need for back-office employees to manually process customer orders.

Product description:

- Mobile order collection in both on and offline mode
- Immediate orders are processed online and available stock is booked directly
- Order confirmation is automatically created and sent as PDF via email
- Customer orders can be processed for delivery with one click

Highlights:

- Product catalog style with pictures, prices, etc.
- Efficient customer acquisition
- Assortment and stock levels optimization for the retailer
- Supports sales representatives by providing relevant statistics and analyses
- Option available to temporarily save customer orders in offline mode
- Complete synchronization with LOGI-Soft®

Technische Eigenschaften:

- Offline und online functionality
- Preview customer order at any time
- Login functionality at the sales representative level
- Bilingual: German and English
- Provision of the H2 record